INSTRUCTIONS FOR VA FORM 21-601 APPLICATION FOR ACCRUED AMOUNTS DUE A DECEASED BENEFICIARY

Note: Do not complete this form if you have applied for death benefits by using VA Form 21-534 or 21-535. Read very carefully, detach, and keep these instructions for your reference.

A. How can I contact VA if I have questions?

If you have questions about this form, how to fill it out, or about benefits, contact your nearest VA regional office. You can locate the address of the nearest regional office in your telephone book blue pages under "United States Government, Veterans" or call 1-800-827-1000 (Hearing Impaired TDD line 1-800-829-4833). You may also contact VA by Internet at <http://iris.va.gov>.

B. What do I use VA Form 21-601 for?

Use VA Form 21-601 to apply for accrued benefits due the beneficiary but not paid prior to death. Each person claiming a share of accrued benefits must complete a separate VA Form 21-601.

Note: If you are a deceased veteran's surviving spouse, child, or dependent parent, you should apply for death benefits, including accrued benefits, using VA Form 21-534, Application for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation, Death Pension and Accrued Benefits by a Surviving Spouse or Child (Including Death Compensation if Applicable) or VA Form 21-535, Application for Dependency and Indemnity Compensation by Parent(s) (Including Accrued Benefits and Death Compensation, When Applicable).

C. What are accrued benefits and how does VA decide what I will or will not receive?

Accrued benefits are benefits that were due the beneficiary at the time of death but not paid prior to death. Entitlement to accrued benefits is determined according to the line of succession established by law.

Benefits are payable to the first living person listed below. The fact that a preferred beneficiary fails to file or prosecute a claim does not permit payment of his/her share of accrued benefits to a person or persons having an equal or lower preference. A waiver of right also does not permit such payment. If there are no living persons who are entitled on the basis of relationship, accrued benefits may be payable as reimbursement for last illness and burial expenses (see Paragraph D).

When the deceased beneficiary is a veteran, accrued is payable <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● in full to the surviving spouse, or ● in equal shares to the veteran's children (see definition of "child" below), or ● in equal shares to the veteran's parents, if they are dependent upon the veteran at the date of the veteran's death, or ● in full to the sole surviving parent, if he/she is dependent upon the veteran at the date of the veteran's death. 	When the deceased beneficiary is a surviving spouse, accrued is payable <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● in equal shares to the veteran's children (see definition of "child" below). 	When the deceased beneficiary is a child, accrued is payable <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ● in equal shares to the veteran's children who are entitled to death compensation, dependency and indemnity compensation, or death pension (see definition of "child" below).

Definitions:

Child means an unmarried child of the veteran who is under 18 years of age, or at least 18 but under 23 years of age and pursuing an approved course of education, or became incapable of self support prior to reaching age 18. However, benefits may be payable to the veteran's children, regardless of age or marital status, if lump sum accrued benefits are payable.

Lump sum accrued benefits are amounts withheld from a competent veteran's Old Law Pension benefits (fixed rate since 1960) during hospital treatment, or institutional or domiciliary care.

D. Who may file a claim for reimbursement for last illness and burial expenses?

If there are no living persons who are entitled on the basis of relationship, accrued benefits may be used to reimburse the person or persons who paid for or are responsible to pay the expenses of last illness and burial of a beneficiary. The claim should be filed by the person or persons whose funds were or will be used to pay such expenses. If the expenses were paid from funds of the deceased beneficiary's estate, the claim should be filed by the executor or administrator of the estate. If the expenses have not been paid, the claim may be filed by the person who is responsible for the payment of these expenses. However, all unpaid creditors must sign Part IV, Reimbursement Waiver.

E. What are the time limits to apply for accrued benefits?

A claim for accrued benefits must be filed within one year from the date of death of the deceased beneficiary.

Exception: A claim for lump sum accrued benefits (benefits that were withheld from a competent veteran during hospital treatment, institutional, or domiciliary care) must be filed within five years from the veteran's date of death. However, if the person who is entitled to the lump sum accrued benefits has been declared incompetent by a court of law or Federal or State government agency at the time of the veteran's death, the five year period begins from the date of termination or removal of the finding of incompetency.

F. What evidence should I submit?

1. Furnish a copy of the death certificate unless the beneficiary died in a VA medical facility.
2. If an executor or administrator of the beneficiary's estate has been assigned, submit a certified copy of the letters of administration or letters testamentary bearing the signature and seal of the appointing court.
3. If you are claiming reimbursement for last illness and burial expenses of a beneficiary, submit all bills and statements of account covering the services and supplies that were provided in connection with these expenses. The bill or statement of account should be submitted on the regular billhead of the creditor and show:
 - the dates, nature, and costs of services or supplies provided,
 - the name of the deceased for whom the expenses were incurred, and
 - whether the expense has been paid, and, if so, by whom.

G. How do I complete my application?

Print all answers clearly. If an answer is "none" or "0," write that. Your answer to every question is important to help us complete your claim. If you do not know the answer, write "unknown." For additional space, use Item 23, "Remarks," or attach a separate sheet, indicating the item number to which the answers apply. Write the veteran's name and VA file number on all attachments. Make sure you sign and date this application (Items 20a and 20b).
